The Future of Growth Factor Therapies

FROM THE POWER OF HUMAN BONE MARROW

Mesenchymal stem cells originating from bone marrow are the most powerful and versatile cell population found in the human body. They can transform into a myriad of cell types to help fight against injury and inflammation. As these cells leave the bone marrow and travel throughout the body, they direct the process of healing to minimize overall damage.

These human cells naturally produce hundreds of growth factors. Multiple peer reviewed studies have determined that lab-cultured growth factors derived from human bone marrow stem cells are primarily anti-inflammatory and anti-aging.

Our formulas are built to incorporate into any aesthetic treatment to rapidly heal and repair the skin at the cellular level. Our portfolio spans from in-office anti-aging treatments, to leading hair growth therapies, to vaginal rejuvenation, and a wide range of home care products.

We are committed to leveraging the power of growth factors and cytokines to deliver safe and effective skincare products and treatments that promote aesthetic health.

Growth Factors for Needling and Energy Based Treatments

Incorporate AnteAGE MD® Growth Factors into your treatments for accelerated healing and optimal patient outcomes.

We have solutions for Hyperpigmentation • Brightening Fine Lines and Wrinkles • Aging • Stretch Marks • Acne Scars

Growth Factors for Hair Regrowth

Kick start the growing phase with our targeted products & technology.

Specialized techniques influence bone marrow stem cell cultures to produce conditioned media focused on hair growth. Bio-identical recombinant growth factors responsible for hair follicle replication signal the WNT 1a pathway. Hair follicle genesis, function and phase transitioning is impossible without WNT signaling.

BRINGING THE BEST CHANCE OF SUCCESS TO YOUR HAIR TREATMENTS

Regardless of which modality you use in-office, send every patient home with AnteAGE MD® Home Hair System. Applying growth factors topically in between professional treatments will guarantee the best results for every hair regrowth journey.
